

we are good our rest rooms regularly got 89% satisfaction

our recycling was improving dead ends looming ...

perhaps too many barriers to innovation, creativity ...

too many systems that go no where emails are bad emails are evil

what happens to all those measures?

peak oil?

a pedal economy?

everyone is seemingly better than me (us)

we are different - arent we?

martin brown

...what does the community really think of us?

future generations ...may be we should listen...

wow, SaaS, web2.0, fm2.0 and introducing twitter poe ™

... a second life for fm

now starting to think outside

really outside

and everyone

blah

....ever after
